This house wonderfully creates the ultimate flex house. It's really almost three houses under one roof. The main floor delivers open floor plan drama via indoor - outdoor entertaining relationships while also including a main floor master suite, office space and a guest suite as well. The lower level boasts a walkout, courtyard-garden that floods the massive entertaining area with light. This level also includes additional bedrooms and guest spaces; as well as an open theatre and bar area. The upper floor – privately located over the enormous 4+ car garage – provides a collection of spaces whose function is limited only by your imagination.
